What the Hell did I just watch?!!

This summer the phrases “Dance for Grandma”, “Alright people, start flipping”, and “Coupon sugar daddy” will be said, shouted, and scribbled on every street, gutter, and rooftop in the Emerald City. All because on July 6th OH! The Humanity, Seattle’s premiere film sketch comedy group will be releasing it’s new DVD, launching a new website, and premiering shorts at the Rawstock Film Festival at the Northwest Film Forum Studios in an explosive triumvirate of funny.

OH! The Humanity produces absurd, intellectual, and sometimes just plain wrong humor that invokes the primitive need to laugh and vomit at the same time. OH! The Humanity specializes in short comedy bits. They have been shown at film festivals, on college television stations, and on short film websites across the nation.

OH! The Humanity was started by childhood friends with backgrounds in comedy and acting. Unfamiliar with film technique the group gained experience by doing and gradually became more adept with all aspects of filmed comedy. OH! The Humanity continues to produce filmed sketch comedy in the Seattle area.
